5th ANNUAL LOS ANGELES CONSTRUCTION AND ASSOCIATED CAREERS AWARENESS DAY

More than 2000 Students from 50 High Schools will join 30 Sponsors and Exhibitors in this Annual Event

WHO: Los Angeles City Councilwoman Jan Perry (invited)
LAUSD Board Members Bennett Kayser, Marguerite LaMotte & Steve Zimmer
LATTTC President Dr. Roland Chapdelaine
California Community Connection Corp. CEO Stephen McGlover

WHAT: This invitation only event is sponsored by the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans), California Community Connection Corporation, Los Angeles Unified School District (LAUSD), Los Angeles Trade-Technical College (LATTTC), Los Angeles County Metropolitan Transportation Authority (Metro), Wells Fargo and the Employment Development Department (EDD). The purpose is to introduce LAUSD high school and LATTTC college students to education, career internship opportunities and union apprenticeships in the construction industry.

Students will learn about various construction trades and how to prepare for careers in construction such as carpentry, plumbing, welding, solar energy, electrical, heating and air conditioning, pipe trades, landscaping, paving and others. Students can also explore construction-related career choices including engineering, surveying, architecture, project management, construction financing, management, community development, transportation construction and maintenance.

WHEN: Thursday, February 28, 2013, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m (speakers—11 to 11:30).

WHERE: Los Angeles Trade-Technical College, 400 West Washington Boulevard, L.A. 90015.

WHY

COVER: This will be a great business or human interest story with PHOTO OPS that include students touring, heavy construction equipment and exhibitor demonstrations.
